Woman and Child Rescued From Blaze

Third Floor Apartment in Ardmore Business Section Burned Out Tuesday Morning.

USE NEW AERIAL TRUCK

A fire of unknown origin which broke out in the third floor apartment of a business building at 12 West Lancaster Avenue, Ardmore, at 9:30 A. M. Tuesday nearly resulted in the burning to death of a woman and child.

Mrs. Robert Fisher and her three-year-old child, asleep in the apartment, were aroused by Frank Leins, an employee of the Primrose Flower Shop on the ground floor, just as the fire was threatening to cut off their retreat. Leins carried the child to safety.

Firemen of the Merion Fire Company of Ardmore, arriving on the scene shortly, brought the fire under control in less than half an hour. The blaze, which was confined entirely to the third floor and roof, gave the firemen their first opportunity to bring the new aerial ladder truck into action, enabling them to reach the scene of the fire with ease.

Traffic on Lancaster Avenue was rerouted by police over Ardmore and Cricket Avenues for an hour. Water damaged the offices of Dr. E. F. Hemminger on the second floor and the Primrose Flower Shop on the first floor. The damage was estimated at $3000.

When Leins, who acted in the role of rescuer, saw the proportions the fire had reached, he removed all records in the flower shop to safety.

Mrs. Fisher's husband, Robert Fisher, proprietor of the flower shop, was in Philadelphia at the time the blaze was discovered. They had taken over the front apartment where the fire broke out only two days before.

Three Papers Speed Up Placing of Workers

Several persons were given employment this week through the co-operation of local residents who needed workers, certain organizations who have waiting lists of trained employees, and the three community news-magazines, Our Town, News of Bala-Cynwyd and The Main Liner. As a result a number of "Help Wanted" ads were cancelled before they could be published in today's issues.

For eight more weeks the three local news-magazines will continue to publish free of charge "Help Wanted" advertisements from local residents who have jobs to offer. Co-operation from charitable organizations, employment agencies and business firms is solicited in the placing of workers.

Two Railroad Employees Killed by Paoli Local

Two Pennsylvania Railroad signalmen were killed almost instantly shortly before 11:30 A. M. Tuesday when they were run over and mangled by a Paoli local electric train on a curve near Thirty-fourth Street and Girard Avenue, near the Zoological Gardens.

None of the passengers on the electric train saw the men struck or were aware of the accident until the train was stopped and the bodies extricated.

To Hear Missionary

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Narberth Methodist Episcopal Church will hold a thank offering service in the church on Monday, April 7, at 2:30. Miss Alice Appenzeller, missionary from Korea, will give an interesting talk on her work in that country. All members and friends are urged to be present.

A. A. Milne's Play, 'The Dover Road,' Interpreted by Dr. Joseph Connor at Community Club Meeting

The treat of Tuesday's meeting of the Woman's Community Club of Narberth was the talk and dramatic interpretation of Dr. Joseph Connor, professor of public speaking and oratory of Emerson College of Oratory, Boston. He was secured by Mrs. Henry A. Frye, chairman of dramatics.

Dr. Connor gave the three-act play, "Dover Road," by A. A. Milne. It is one of the crisp and entertaining plays such as Milne often writes. The scene laid in an old inn of mystery on the Dover Road. He explains that if we could creep round the house and peep in at the window we would always see some mysterious situation in progress. Such a situation opens this play. Two young people seek shelter.

Orchestra in Third Concert Wednesday

Varied Program to Be Offered by Main Line Musicians at Junior High

VOGEL TO CONDUCT

The third concert of the season by the Main Line Orchestra will be given next Wednesday evening, April 9, at the Lower Merion Junior High School auditorium, Ardmore, at 8:15 o'clock.

The orchestra, under the direction of Adolph Vogel, of Narberth, will present the following program: Haydn's Symphony in B Major (complete), "Valse Triste," Sibelius; "One Who Has Yearn'd Alone," Tschai-kowsky; Waltz from "Apple Blossoms," Kreisler; Spanish Dances, Mozskowski; MacDowell concerto for piano (one movement) played by Mary Carroll Rolin, with orchestral accompaniment; Bruch's G Minor Concerto for violin (two movements), played by Josephine Gemberling with orchestral accompaniment.

Dramatization Feature of Next Community Service

The community service in the spring series will be held at the Narberth Theatre on Sunday evening, April 13, at 7:45 o'clock.

The program will include a half-hour musical performance by the Lyric Trio, composed of a soprano soloist, harp and violin. The second feature will be the dramatization of Charles Rann Kennedy's "The Terrible Meek." Mrs. H. I. McConnell, Frank Follmer and Robert E. Keighton will form the cast.

Co-operating groups sponsoring this series of community services are the Protestant churches of Narberth, Merion Friends' Meeting, American Legion and Woman's Community Club.

Stop Signs Erected at All 'Thru' Streets

Tags For First Violation, Fines For Second, to Be Given All Offenders.

STOP WILL MEAN STOP

Another step towards control of traffic and the prevention of automobile accidents in Narberth was made this week with the erection of "Thru Traffic-Stop" signs at all intersections of Wynnewood, Essex, Narberth, Haverford and Montgomery Avenues within the borough limits. These streets were designated "Thru" streets by borough ordinance and the placing of the "Stop" signs will mark the beginning of its enforcement.

The borough police officers have been instructed by Burgess Henry A. Frye to give warning tags to all drivers on their first violations of this ordinance. For the second offense, all violators will receive summons to appear before the Burgess in the borough Police Court which will be held at Elm Hall, and will be subject to a fine of five dollars and costs.

That the ordinance will be strictly enforced was made clear by Burgess Frye in the following statement:

"More automobile accidents occurred in Narberth during 1929 than in the three previous years combined. Among the moves made by the borough authorities to deal with this situation was the establishment of Essex, Wynnewood, Narberth and Haverford Avenues in the borough and Montgomery Avenue on the northern boundary as 'Thru' streets. Certain intersections of these streets are not as busy and dangerous as others. Therefore the signs erected this week have been placed as the result of a definite scheme.

"The word 'STOP' on these signs does not mean 'slow,' even though it may appear that there are no other vehicles in sight, and the officers have been instructed accordingly. The habit of mind which permits an automobile driver to say whether or not he is to obey regulations made for the protection of the general public is one of the most frequent causes of accidents and the toleration of such a condition quickly nullifies the objective. Therefore the penalties of five dollars and costs or three days' imprisonment as provided by State law will be enforced."

Cool Days Continue

Continued cool weather predominated on the Main Line through the end of March, according to the report of U. S. Weather Observer Charles Decker. Six days showed a temperature of from 4 to 13 degrees under normal. Minimum temperatures of 30 were touched on four days, 29 one day and 32 another.

Enrollment Jumps at Child Health Centre

To Give Schick Tests to Determine Diphtheria Immunity During April.

The Narberth Child Health Centre, established in January, now boasts of an enrollment of forty-seven children. This represents an increase of nineteen over the total enrolled on March 1.

In addition to the continuance of the regular work during April, Schick tests, to determine a child's immunity against diphtheria will be given for the first time at the Narberth Centre. These tests are given to children who have received toxin-antitoxin inoculations at the Child Health Centres during the past eight months, to definitely establish whether or not they are immune. Since three inoculations may not be sufficient, the Schick test is necessary to determine the child's condition.

Personal notices will be sent to parents of children who are scheduled for this test, and it is important that they report the day and hour stated in their notices as this may be the only opportunity that the Centre can offer.

At the monthly meeting of the Board of Managers of the Narberth Centre last Tuesday, the director of the Centre reported that forty-three children were in attendance during the month of March. The centre was opened four Wednesdays from 2 to 3 P. M. with a physician, nurse and director in attendance at the conferences. Forty examinations were made, twenty-five of the children being under one year of age. The local volunteers serving were Mrs. Nelson C. Rowley, Mrs. L. W. Melcher and Mrs. W. R. Knauer.

The Child Health Centre will be open each Wednesday in the club room, rear of Elm Hall, from 2 to 3 P. M. Children of pre-school age are welcome. The purpose of the Centre is to educate the mother along lines of child health and so aid in the prevention of unnecessary ill health in the child.

Issue Fifty-four Permits

Fifty-four building permits were issued during March by the Building Inspector of Lower Merion Township, Charles E. Rahn. Cost of operations was estimated at $337,480. This represents a decrease of twenty-eight in the quantity of permits issued and of $6875 in value of operations over March of 1929.

Best Sellers Found on Library's Shelves

April may seem a little late for consideration of 1929 books, but, as you will see later, it apparently is not. A list of the ten Best Sellers of 1929 suggested a comparison with the records of the Narberth Community Library. The Library has nine of the ten, and the missing one is considered trivial, by even the Book Trade. Of those nine, only one was on the Library shelves, showing that if they are no longer best sellers, they are still circulating well, which is the more interesting, since three of them are non-fiction. A similar check of the monthly lists shows similar results.

All this is by way of saying that the Narberth Community Library takes pains to give to its users a constant supply of the new and popular books, as well as a background of literature of proved worth.

Get Harvard Scholarships

Two members of the Lower Merion High School senior class, Randolph Keim and David McVikar, have been awarded scholarships to Harvard University by the Harvard Club of Philadelphia. Keim and McVikar were entertained at a dinner by members of the club last week and the scholarships followed.

The man decides to go on the journey by himself and the scene ends as another couple comes to the door only to have the butler tell them that the inn is closed pending a change in management. Mr. Latimer, the man of mystery, is in love and wins for himself the girl who would have taken "The Dover Road." Dr. Connor is a finished dramatist and every shade of meaning was brought out and conveyed to his hearers as he assumed all the different characters portrayed in a fine and finished performance.

Mrs. Sipple, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, asked in a letter read at the meeting that every club woman answer all questions asked by the census takers.

Of especial interest in the reports given by the chairmen was the mention of the poster exhibited regarding the conservation of wild flowers. Mrs. Mary Livingston, conservation chairman, asked every one to look at and not pick the wild azalia, arbutus, dogwood and many other varieties that are fast becoming extinct through the carelessness of motorists.

Mrs. Franklin P. Dunlop, chairman of art, drew the attention of members to the new picture of the month called "Brookside Road," the most expensive picture to be shown, valued at $1200.

The proposed changes as read by Mrs. E. C. Batchelor, chairman of the committee on the revision of the constitution and by-laws, held the attention of her hearers as she read every paragraph and the changes as they will read in the new proposed constitution.

Why SWP costs less on your house than any other paint

What will it cost to paint your house? This is what concerns you — not what the paint costs per gallon.

While fine old SWP costs more per gallon, it costs less on your home than any other paint. Why? Because one gallon of SWP will thoroughly paint almost twice as much surface as a gallon of cheaper paint. Therefore fewer gallons of SWP are needed.

So — ignoring the fact that SWP lasts twice as long as cheaper paint, and that its weatherproof colors retain their beauty to the very last — the first cost of painting your house with the world's best house paint is actually less than that of cheaper paint. Buy your paint on a job basis and save. Let us prove it to you by simple arithmetic.

SWP House Paint

The world's standard of house paint quality. SWP is made in one quality only and that the very best. Famous for long life and the permanency of its many beautiful colors. FORE AND AFT

"Strange Interlude" entering final weeks; Mrs. Fiske in Sheridan's "Rivals," coming to town.

Despite the heavy handicap which Lent always imposes upon the theatre, there has been no abatement in the attendance at the Garrick Theatre, where Eugene O'Neill's "Strange Interlude" is now in its sixth week of capacity business. However, earlier bookings in other cities absolutely preclude the Philadelphia engagement, extending beyond Saturday, April 19th, when the Garrick Theatre run will end. It is known that over three hundred cities throughout the country have requested the Theatre Guild to send "Strange Interlude" to them.

Probably no other play ever produced on the American stage has provoked so much discussion. There is no mincing of words throughout its entire length. Some older playgoers have been heard to declare its candor shocking. The younger generation seems to find it most entertaining, but are puzzled by its philosophy. Undoubtedly it possesses a rare fascination, judging by the crowded houses it has attracted everywhere.

As for the story of "Strange Interlude," assuming that there are even now some playgoers who do not know all about it, O'Neill evidently intends it to be the portrayal of the complete love life of Nina Leeds. Cheated of her sweetheart through the war, Nina decides to spend her life giving happiness to others, as they seem to desire happiness. It is a peculiar complex, for she herself feeds on what she gives to others, and she is only content when they are all completely dependent upon her.

It is with every loving thought of Sam, her husband, that she wants a son for him. And her way of achieving both their happiness is not new to real life. It has its counterpart in many stories which appear daily in the press. But only a skilled craftsman such as Eugene O'Neill could even attempt that which he has so successfully carried through in this, his great est play.

The curtain rises promptly at 5:30 in the afternoon, and at 7:40 there is a dinner intermission until 9. No one is seated while the play is in progress.

Following its New York engagement, a whirlwind tour of "The Rivals," Richard Sheridan's matchless comedy, will include a four-day engagement at the Broad Street Theatre on May 14, 15, 16, 17.

This flying tour approximates the famous Joseph Jefferson all-star company of "The Rivals," which played twenty-seven cities in the same number of days in 1896. The present company will play thirty cities in thirty odd days. Many of the cities played by the Jefferson aggregation of stars will be included in the tour of the present company, which is headed by Mrs. Fiske as Mrs. Malaprop.

It will be recalled that five years ago an all-star company headed by Mrs. Fiske as Mrs. Malaprop and James T. Powers as Bob Acres, toured for seventy weeks in celebration of the One Hundred and Fiftieth Anniversary of the writing of "The Rivals." These two stellar players are again appearing in these roles; and Andrew Mack is the Sir Lucius O'Trigger.

The love interest is upheld by Margery Maude as Lydia Languish, and Rolle Peters as Captain Jack, while Pedro de Cordoba is the Faulkland and Betty Linley, Julia. John Craig plays Sir Anthony, and Georgette Cohan, Lucy.

Inasmuch as "The Rivals," is ageless, an da comedy which people revel in time and time again, it is anticipated that everywhere a capacity audience will greet the players each performance.

The Maroon Spirit

What happened at the Palestra last Saturday evening is well known to everyone however remotely interested in the fortunes of Lower Merion's athletic teams. Sharon High School swooped down from northwestern Pennsylvania, 1500 strong, with a determination to win the State basketball championship after three previous futile attempts. Lower Merion lost to a team superior in both offensive and defensive play. Still the Maroon colors never drooped and Anderson's quintet refused to admit defeat until the contest ended. They played with a morale that, given just a few more "breaks," would have given them a victory over a better team. While that type of sportsmanship is maintained, Lower Merion may well take pride in its school's representatives.

Proof of the Census

Estimators of population, of whom there are legion, will now take their decennial vacation. The approach and subsequent arrival of the actual figures will keep them quiet for about a year. Meanwhile the remainder of us will anxiously await the announcements as to just how many people live in the community, county, State, nation and certain of the larger cities.

Ambitious guessers have placed Lower Merion's population as high as 75,000 and have given Narberth 10,000 residents. There is a slight suspicion that these estimates are a little strong. In the last few years these two political subdivisions, township and borough, have been generally given credit for having twenty-five per cent. of the population of Montgomery County. It will now be of some note to find whether this percentage has increased. First guess would be that the figure was now closer to 33 per cent., but not when the tremendous growth of the Abington-Cheltenham and Lansdale sections is taken into consideration.

However, why speculate further? Let's wait. And insist on your right, as a citizen, to be counted.

Sports at Haverford

Haverford College continues to show a wholesome independence with regard to its undergraduate activities. Announcement was made this week that golf had become recognized as a sport by the Athletic Committee. Probably Haverford will never come within fiftieth place of a national championship football team, but it will be able to mention that it has a cricket team and a diversification of activities seldom equalled by much larger colleges. A twiddlewinks tournament was a feature of the present semester. We sincerely trust that Haverford will continue to play the games for all they are worth and not to place too great a worth upon them.

Optimism in Building

Building permits for an estimated cost of $337,480 were issued in Lower Merion Township during March. In view of a recent noticeable slump in building and real estate activities, it is significant that last month's figure is less than $7000 under that of March, 1929. Totals for the first four months of 1930 as against 1929 show a larger proportion of decrease, but with an upward swing it is entirely probable the end of the year will show normal conditions or possibly an increase. These figures indicate a stability in this community that augurs for the safety and advisability of local investments.

The average man doesn't know enough about women's clothes, says a magazine writer. Well, all he needs to know is the price.

UNCLE CY'S COLUMN

Pipe Dreams

Now that all the fussing is over for a week or so, it is rather pleasant to write the column again, even if it is likely to bring another teapot tempest from Jess. This week it will be neither humorous, instructive, nor entertaining.

Probably every man in moderate circumstances and of normal digestion has sat before an open fire some evening and thought of what he would do if some magic power suddenly bestowed a great fortune on him. Of course many of you who read this column were born with great fortunes and you can never fully appreciate that joy. Your pipe dreams must be of lovely ladies, gallant men, travel, adventure, sport, or whatever at the moment seems inaccessible to you.

However, the bulk of us, who struggle along with five to twenty-five thousand a year with little likelihood of increasing that amount very much, love to sit and think what we should do if a vast sum such as five millions were suddenly presented to us without any entangling alliances.

Suppose that we accept the five million as the hypothetical amount. If I, or some other affectionate uncle, were to leave it to you suddenly and with no conditions, what would you do with it? Could you administer it competently? Would you spend it on yourself or on the alleviation of the ills and distresses of mankind?

Perhaps that's not so hard. Write me a letter, care of this news-magazine, and tell me in fifty to seventy-five words how you'd take care of it.

Now, suppose we did impose conditions. Suppose I said, "You may have the five million dollars to spend, but you must spend every cent of it within four months. Everything that remains unspent must revert to me at that time." Wouldn't that make you work? Remember your interest tables which would give you an extra seventy-five thousand if you waited till the last day of the time. Is it possible for an individual to spend five million dollars in four months?

To try again, suppose that you had to take this hypothetical sum of money and spend it in a limited time on nothing but yourself; that is, on one dwelling, motors, yachts, horses, furniture, theatres, dinners, flowers, and traveling; could you get rid of it on time?

After all, the chances are that none of you will ever have that much money at one time or even collectively, so we shall never know the worries of caring for it, and it's much more fun to spend it on a typewriter for your own amusement and the delight of those who sit restlessly silent, awaiting their turns to tell of their own methods. Come on and spend it in this column for two or three weeks; satisfy all suppressed delusions of grandeur you may have, and feel for an hour or so, as though you could pass out half dollars where John D. Rockefeller gives away dimes.

You probably wonder what strange twist of imagination caused me to start off on this track; direct suggestion from a check in my pocket. The check is not for five million; it will do little more than buy two silk hats, but it represents a dividend on a stock that went thunderously down the toboggan (sp?) last October, so that I have more or less blushed each time I remembered buying it. Now, it has done me a good turn, and I feel like a millionaire. In fact, for the present, I am a millionaire. Of course, Aunt Cy doesn't know anything about it. While it might buy me two silk hats it would only buy her one straw one, so perhaps I am a little too enthusiastic over the matter.

To vindicate my perfidy in not telling her about it, I'll give part of it to the Bryn Mawr Hospital, in spite of my distaste of the vulgar little subscription book, and spend the rest on "beer and tobacco."

The column is yours again next week. Do what you will with it.

A man in Brazil has just reached his 136th birthday. When they lighted the cake it must have looked like Broadway after dark.

"Time Out"

By Tommy Macklin.

Palmerton's reaction: "Great game, fellows. Hope you win the State championship."

Allentown's cry: "We can beat those bums by twenty points on a larger floor."

Old Forge grumbles: "Punk referees. We've got the better team."

John Harris remarks: "We expected to lose. You have a great team."

Sharon's coach shouts: "We should have won by fifteen or twenty points against that team. My boys were away off."

Bill Anderson & Co.: "The best team won. They have a great team. Everything was handled beautifully. I was very proud of my boys."

Take your pick, fellows. There are greater things than victory.

Well, the fun's all over, dear reader. Anything from now on is just ordinary. We feel as though the battle of Waterloo had hit us between the eyes and all is finished. We were all there to see it, anyway, and we got our money's worth. You don't know the half of it.

Let's look at the other side for awhile.

Sharon's third attempt in the rush for the State title, and the last year for practically every member of the team. A five-hundred-mile trek, a battle against a championship team on a strange floor, and a thousand fans in the stands who were backing them to the last ditch. Well, we don't mind losing so much to an outfit like that.

As Joe Baltz remarked: "Two good Italians in the lineup, a Dutchman or two, an Englishman, a couple of Scotchmen, and others, but it took a big Irishman to run away with the show."

And he did. Chop off a foot of Murphy's length and Lower Merion would have walked off with the verdict.

Judge Bonniwell's favorite son did a nice job throughout the contest. His seven points were quite a help to the Maroon cause.

Principal Gilbert, of the High School, is having a hard time finding room for the trophies which the basketball team won this season.

Then there is the sad case of Al D'Amora. Along with the other members of the team, Alfred won a beautiful silver watch charm for reaching the final round in the tournament. "Now," says Al, "I have to buy a watch."

Henry Gane, the red-haired speed hound from Bryn Mawr, is one of the best basketball players in the suburbs, but has had little chance to prove it. Reds has worn out several pairs of trunks on the bench acting as first string sub for the Lower Merion team of stars.

Gane played in the Palmerton, Old Forge and John Harris games, but did not break into the lineup against either Allentown or Sharon.

Lower Merion's guards held the opposing forwards to six field goals during the five tournament games. A wonderful defensive record. While they were doing this they rang up a total of 16 between themselves.

Bonniwell and Lockwood scored the same number of points, 39 each.

Pennypacker scored twenty points and D'Amora nineteen. D'Amora, incidentally, is the only man on the squad who played every minute of every game during the tournament.

A great season has come to an end. It may be a long time before the Maroon fans will be given the treat they have received this season. But then great things will be expected of Bill Anderson next year, and he may repeat.

An Eastern rajah is reported to have a bedstead twelve feet long and nine feet wide. That's a lot of bunk!

Why Do

White's rolls always look the same and taste the same? Because they are made of Occident flour—the only flour that never varies in quality. It is always good.

The engineers who straightened the Chicago River might try their hands at straightening some other civic currents in that vicinity.

Representative Underhill, of Massachusetts, wants to take the bunk out of the Congressional Record and boil things down to essentials. In that case they would simmer down to nothing.

Out in Seattle, Washington, a shock restored a man's voice. A divorce often has the same effect.

That newly discovered Peking skull, thought to be a million years old, is said to be that of a woman. And the poor soul has no way of denying her age.

Zoning Board Grants Two Appeals; Third Withdrawn

At a public hearing by the Board of Adjustment of Lower Merion Township on Thursday, March 27, at the Township Building, Ardmore, the appeals of Mrs. Anna Cox Yarnall and Charles Armstrong, Inc., from the action of the Building Inspector, were granted.

The action of the Board will permit Mrs. Yarnall to erect a studio building on her property situated at 27 Love's Lane, North Ardmore district. It will also permit Charles Armstrong, Inc., to construct four single family dwellings on his property on Garden Road, north of Haverford Road, in the South Ardmore district.

The appeal of Frank Lawler from the action of the Building Inspector in refusing to grant a permit for the construction of an airplane hangar on his property situated on the northwest corner of Argyle and Haverford Roads, South Ardmore district, was withdrawn.

Mrs. Bowman's Will Makes Many Bequests

Gives Memorial Window to St. John's Church at Cynwyd.

MILLION-DOLLAR ESTATE

St. John's Church, Cynwyd, through the will of Mrs. Elizabeth W. M. Bowman, of Merion, will receive a trust fund of $18,000 for a memorial window in the tower of the church. The will was probated at Norristown on Saturday.

Other bequests, disposing of the estate valued at $1,000,000, include $250,000 to the Pennsylvania Museum of Art; Academy of Natural Sciences and the Historical Society of Pennsylvania, $50,000 each; books to the Merion Library as a memorial to General Bowman. Bequests of several hundred thousand dollars go to relatives, considerable amounts to hospitals and employees, and the residue to the Pennsylvania Museum of Art as a memorial to her husband.

Mrs. Bowman died last Monday night in the Women's Southern Homoeopathic Hospital after a long illness. She was in her eightieth year.

She was Elizabeth W. Malcolm, daughter of the Rev. Dr. Thomas Shields Malcolm. Her mother was a niece of Dr. James Carnahan, who was president of Princeton College for forty years.

General Bowman, a distinguished soldier, former commander of the Pennsylvania National Guard, who was also a widely-known lawyer, died in April, 1928. "Elm Hall," the Bowman home, has been in the family since Colonial times, it being a part of the farm of Roger Bowman, a contemporary of William Penn.

attributes its great success to the application of such philosophy as is contained in the following reprint:

IT ISN'T the big things that get people.

It's the little things.

Businesses that are closely managed seldom have to call special meetings of their boards of directors. If small leaks are plugged when they first appear there will be no big leaks.

I have no use for people who boast that they "are no good at details." If a man isn't good at details he isn't good at anything.

A restaurant may be fine in other respects, but it condemns itself in my eyes if the waiter offers me a dirty menu card. Just a little thing—but the little things make a loud noise.

Tennis Club Property Sold at Sheriff's Sale

The Narberth Tennis Club property at Haverford and Montgomery Avenues was sold at Sheriff's sale at Norristown last Wednesday to Henry A. Frye as attorney. The debt on the property was $8245, and the purchase price, $10,000. The principal indebtedness on the property was held by Fletcher W. Stites.

Plans for the disposition of the property have not been completed, though it has been spoken of as the site for an apartment house. Arrangements may be made whereby it will be available for use by the Tennis Association another year.

Pennsylvania Consumes 5 Per Cent. World's Gasoline

Pennsylvania is consuming nearly five per cent. of the world production of gasoline, according to W. D. Anderson, vice president in charge of exports for the Atlantic Refining Company, who addressed the Philadelphia Real Estate Board recently. Exclusive of the United States and with the possible exception of the United Kingdom, he said, this is more than is consumed annually by any country, or any continent, in the world.

At that there are four other States that exceeded Pennsylvania in gasoline consumption in 1929. New York led with a total of 1,445,000,000 gallons. California was second with 1,253,324,000 and Illinois third with 1,090,000,000 gallons. Ohio was a close fourth. In 1928 Illinois led the country with a total consumption of 1,265,000,000.

The total consumption of gasoline for the United States in 1929 was 15,617,784,000 gallons as compared with 13,157,744,712 in 1928. Philadelphia, according to Mr. Anderson, consumes something less than one per cent. of the world production of automobile fuel.

There's a fellow in North Carolina who thinks so much of Al Smith that he has had a picture of Smith pasted inside his coffin, to be buried with him. Say what you will, Hoover has no such an ardent admirer.

Lower Merion Police Round Up 150 in Enforcement Campaign of 'Stop' Signs

Hearings Before Magistrate Kromer Follow; Many Week-end Accidents.

POLICE CAR IS WRECKED

Enforcement of stop signs at the intersections of "Thru Traffic" highways throughout the township by Lower Merion police during the past two weeks has resulted in one hundred and fifty summonses and hearings before Magistrate Franklin P. Kromer at the Ardmore Police Station. Many fines were imposed.

The campaign to stop such violations was given added impetus when a police automobile was demolished by a driver who entered a "Thru" street without so much as slowing down. While some intersections, such as that at Montgomery and Bryn Mawr Avenues, Cynwyd, have provided a generous share of the offenders, the enforcement of the ordinance is general throughout the township.

The week-end brought its toll of accidents throughout the township. In a collision early Sunday morning at Montgomery and Bryn Mawr Avenues, Narberth, H. L. Collins, Jr., of Haverford, was held in $1000 bail. The machine with which he collided was driven by Dr. Charles E. Shannon, of Fairview. Dr. and Mrs. Ambrose E. Edgerton, of Philadelphia, occupants of Dr. Shannon's car, were treated for bruises at Bryn Mawr Hospital. Collins was released following a hearing by Magistrate Kromer for a further hearing tomorrow.

Edward Buoy, of Wynnefield, suffered a fractured skull in a peculiar accident at Belmont Avenue near City Line at 2 P. M. Sunday. He was riding a bicycle when an automobile in front of him driven by H. V. P. Levis, of Germantown, stopped suddenly. Buoy crashed into the rear of the car, striking and breaking the rear window with his head and was thrown to the road. He was taken to the Memorial Hospital, where it was thought he had a chance to pull through.

In a collision at Church Road and Lancaster Avenue, Ardmore, at 1:40 A. M. Sunday, Marie Ferguson, of Manayunk, was struck by Joseph A. Moran, of Gladwyne. Both suffered from slight injuries.

When two automobiles disputed the right of way at City Line and Belmont Avenue at 1:30 A. M. Sunday, the driver of one machine, C. L. Davis, an aviator at the Philadelphia Airport, and his wife were injured. The other car was operated by L. E. Redford.

FUR TRUTHS

The

Pointed Fox?

THERE IS NO SUCH ANIMAL

Pointed fox is merely a trade name given to a Red Fox after it has been dyed a very dark taupe (almost black) and then pointed with little white hairs. If properly dyed, the color will not rub off and the white hairs will stay fast. If expertly pointed.

It is a very flattering scarf and harmonizes with all shades of ensembles and dresses.

Prices start at forty-five dollars, according to size and fullness of fur. P. G. Godfrey, Suite 324-25-26, Ten Eleven Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, specializes in quality furs, also storage, refinishing and repairing. A thoroughly American concern with over thirty years of fur experience. All charges are very moderate.

L. M. Defeats Overbrook 6-3 in Baseball Opener

Lower Merion opened the baseball season Tuesday afternoon by defeating Overbrook High School of Philadelphia, 6 to 3. Coach Warren Cocklin's proteges played a good game for an opening engagement, outhitting the visitors, 13 to 3. Lachman Reinhart did the heaviest clouting for the home-sters with two ringing doubles into the stands. Roy Williams and Keith Parks each smacked a triple which aided materially in the scoring. Herb Thomas started on the mound for the Main Liners, and he did a neat job with his left arm. Parks followed him and, though unsteady at times, managed to hold the opponents scoreless for his three-inning stay on the mound.

Coaches Signed

Announcement by the Executive Athletic Committee of the signing of Coaches Brammhall, Patterson, McPete and Taylor, in tennis, cricket, soccer and basketball, completes the coaching staff for Haverford College for next year, with the exception of football. The gridiron sport was left without a head coach when Harvey Harman accepted an offer from the University of the South, to take over the football and track departments there. Coach Brammhall's team which has compiled a record of nineteen wins and eight losses in the two years in which he has been coaching it, will face a hard schedule of sixteen matches. James McPete will be in charge of the soccer men, who have a record of fifty-nine wins, eighteen ties, and seventeen defeats, in the eight years that he has been at Haverford. Sam Taylor, basketball mentor during the season just passed, will again tutor the quintet, and he is hoping that the team will better the record of eight losses and five victories, compiled last winter.

Egyptian Theatre Notes

The Egyptian Theatre's $20,000 Western Electric equipment will reproduce, this Friday and Saturday, "Sunny Side Up," the happy singing-talking success which stars Janet Gaynor, Charles Farrell, El Brendel and Frank Richardson. Accompanying the feature is the Egyptian's usual week-end newscast by Graham McNamee of world events in the Inquirer's news-reel.

"The Marriage Playground," with Mary Brian and Fredric March, is the Egyptian's attraction for next Monday and Tuesday. On Wednesday and Thursday Bebe Daniels, Lloyd Hughes and Ned Sparks will be heard-seen in "Love Comes Along," and there will be a Charlie Chase comedy.

The "Bishop Murder Case," with Basil Rathbone as Philo Vance, will be seen-heard at Bala-Cynwyd's theatre the end of next week. Announced as accompanying it are "Our Gang" and "Mickey Mouse" comedies.

A girl in Kansas is refused admission to High School because she is married. And just when she needs mathematics most.

Main Line Repertory Group Gives Admirable Performance of 'This Thing Called Love' at Cynwyd

"This Thing Called Love," that delightful comedy of marriage which had such a successful run in Philadelphia last season and is now in the movies, was presented in an admirable fashion by the Main Line Repertory Theatre at the Woman's Club of Bala-Cynwyd to an appreciative audience on Wednesday evening.

The play, which is now doubtless familiar to many, deals with a new style of marriage which goes by the board, becoming the real thing when love enters in.

Ann Speed, of Narberth, whose acting in "The First Year" won acclaim, gave a performance which should make Violet Henning look to her laurels, if she is still playing the role. Miss Speed's charming interpretation of the part, a difficult one, left little to be desired.

Comedy honors were again carried off by Elizabeth Barry Cunningham, of Rosemont, who kept the audience holding its sides. Robert B. Ely, III, of Merion, who played the part of the Peruvian millionaire, lent dignity and sincerity to the role. Others in the cast were Lisel Boericke, of Wynnewood, as Miss Alvarez, a seductive female; Hambleton D. Shepperd, of Cynwyd, a fiery breaker up of homes; John H. Faunce, 4th, of Cynwyd, a henpecked husband; George F. Joly, 3d, of Wynnewood, an accomplished butler; Beatrice S. Carver, of Bala-Cynwyd, the hysterical wife; John Creighton, of Bala-Cynwyd, her husband, and Dorothy Stone, of Cynwyd, a charming maid.

Despite a certain tendency towards forgetfulness on the part of some members of the cast, the play as a whole ran off in good order. An attractive modern stage set, designed by Charles V. John, art director of the company, lent atmosphere to the performance.

The play was staged under the direction of Ada S. Bomberger and produced by Charles V. John. Edward H. Miller was the stage manager.

Narberth Theatre Notes

Lenore Ulric, stage actress, will be seen-heard at the Narberth playhouse Monday and Tuesday in "South Sea Rose," which is based on the stage play, "La Gringa."

Two beautiful waltzes lead this week's list of unusual selections. "When It's Springtime in the Rockies" and "Down the River of Golden Dreams," played by the Hilo Hawaiian Orchestra, will make a hit with those who enjoy the dreamy melodies of the marimba and the steel guitar. From the "talkies," two numbers by the mellow voiced James Melton are strikingly different. And then—John McCormack. From his first "all talkie" we have twelve sides in the true McCormack vein—written for him—sung by him—re-creating his personality for millions of admirers.
